BAHMÜLLER Sealing Line

For four decades Kriemler Verpackungen AG, a small Swiss family business stands for quality and flexibility in the segment of individual packaging solutions. The production ranges from standard boxes to customized packaging. To maintain the high quality level and to satisfy the growing demands of its customers Kriemler invested in a high flexible Bahmüller Single Sealing Line model SL 25/29 SGT. The machine converts blanks of up to almost six meters and offers stitching, gluing, taping and combination stitching/gluing as sealing methods. Every customer requirement can be fulfilled. No matter whether single or heavy-duty board, the sealing quality is always the same from the first to the last box in the stack. „This investment is going to strengthen our position in the Swiss market and most of all against the suppliers of mass production“, says Patrik Kriemler, owner of the company. Kriemler is considering further investments in the near future - not only to strengthen its market position but to expand it. “We will continue to grow steadily to be the partner of choice for our customers”, Kriemler says.
